

EXPERIENCE

Young Professional

World Bank

2025-

Washington DC, USA

- Joined the World Bank as a Young Professional in the Public Finance and Procurement Unit in September 2025.

Research Fellow

Tax Justice Network, Research Department

2023-2025

Brussels, Belgium

- Led the profit misalignment estimates for the flagship annual publication State of Tax Justice in 2024, contributing to high-profile annual reporting on global tax transparency.
- Conducted in-person seminars in French on measuring illicit financial flows for government officials in Gabon and Burkina Faso, in collaboration with UNECA.
- Co-authored a bilingual policy report for Addis Tax Initiative Partner Countries on the use of Country-by-Country Reporting data to support capacity building among government officials in Benin, Ghana, Tanzania, and Zambia.
- Managed 25+ macroeconomic datasets for over 190 countries in real time, specializing in data extraction, transformation, and loading (ETL) processes using Python for internal analysis and reporting.
- Represented the Tax Justice Network at the European Commission's Platform for Tax Good Governance, the 2024 IMF-WB Annual Meetings, and at a Illicit Financial Flows Expert Group Meeting, contributing to advocacy and international policy discussions.
- Provided technical support to colleagues, assisting with coding, data requests, and map designs for various research projects.
- Presented research findings at two academic conferences and at the IFFs Expert Group Meeting, enhancing academic engagement and policy outreach.

PhD in Economic History

London School of Economics and Political Science

2018-2023

London, UK

- Conducted a comprehensive research project titled The Political Economy of Taxation in Spain, 1901-1936, supervised by Dr. Max-Stephan Schulze and Dr. Joan Rosés.
- Developed advanced research skills through rigorous investigation and analysis, culminating in the creation of a novel dataset from primary sources.
- Collected and processed primary data by visiting multiple Spanish archives, gaining substantial expertise in sourcing and managing historical documents using Abby FineReader.
- Acquired strong analytical skills and proficiency in advanced econometric techniques, utilizing data management and statistical software (R and Stata) for rigorous analysis.
- Enhanced writing and editing capabilities by drafting and revising research papers, proficiently using  $\text{\LaTeX}$  for document preparation.
- Cultivated strong public presentation skills through conference participation and seminar presentations, effectively communicating research findings to academic audiences.

Graduate Teaching Assistant in Economic History

London School of Economics, Economic History Department

2019-2022

London, UK

- Taught 176 seminars for the MSc in Monetary and Financial History and the undergraduate module in Latin America and the International Economy, covering key topics such as the Great Depression, Bretton Woods, sovereign debt crises, 19th-Century Latin American capital flows, import-substitution industrialisation, and the Great Recession
- Achieved strong student feedback, with satisfaction scores of 4.8/5 for MSc seminars and 5/5 for undergraduate seminars, praised for organisation, engagement, interactivity, and support.
- Students attained class grade averages of 66.2% (MSc) and 65.1% (undergraduate), with attendance rates consistently high (82.6% MSc, 85.3% undergraduate).

- Successfully tutored 8 students for graduate school and job applications, helping them secure positions and admission offers.
- Praised by students for creating interactive seminars, fostering participation, and encouraging independent judgment, with a focus on testing and enhancing knowledge through discussion.

Graduate Teaching Assistant in International Economics

School of Oriental and African Studies, Economics Department

2018-2019

London, UK

- Taught 80 seminars for the undergraduate module in International Economics as part of the BSc in Economics, engaging a diverse cohort of 60 students.
- Developed valuable teaching skills by working with students from varied socioeconomic backgrounds, enhancing my ability to adapt instructional methods to meet diverse learning needs.
- Fostered an inclusive classroom environment, implementing strategies to support alternative learning styles and encourage active participation.
- Successfully tutored 5 students in their application processes for master's programs and graduate positions, guiding them to achieve their career aspirations.

EDUCATION

---

PhD in Economic History

London School of Economics and Political Science

2018-2023

London, UK

Thesis title: The Political Economy of Taxation in Spain, 1901-1936.

Supervisors: Dr. Max-Stephan Schulze, LSE and Dr. Joan Rosés, LSE.

MSc in Economic History (Research)

London School of Economics and Political Science

2017-2018

London, UK

Dissertation title: Internal Migrations in Spain, 1961-1980.

Supervisor: Dr. Joan Rosés, LSE.

BSc (Hons) Philosophy, Politics and Economics

University of Warwick

2014-2017

Coventry, UK

LANGUAGES AND TECHNICAL SKILLS

---

Languages Spanish (native), French (native), English (fluent), Portuguese (Basic).

IT Skills R, Stata, Python, LaTeX, Windows Office (Word, Excel, Powerpoint), Notion, Airtable, Wordpress.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

---

Presented PhD and Tax Justice Network research papers in 13 conferences and seminars

2019-2024

Four research working papers

2018-2024

ESRC DTP Studentship, four-year full award

2018-2022

Winner of the LSE Class Teacher Award, Winner. Nominated to four other awards.

2019-2022

Editor Assistant, Economic History Review, London, UK.

2018-2021

One opinion article published in Agenda Pública.

2020